Integrated London Lord Mayors, Aldermen & Sheriffs

1780–1914

Part 2: 1837–1914 (incomplete)

Sir William Trelour, 1907

by Peter Haizelden

Introduction

These two texts are an integrated research-aid for those researching London Lord Mayors, Aldermen and Sheriffs between 1780 and 1914. They provide biographical information and references for each person named. The documents were not completed at the time of researcher Peter Haizelden's death, but should provide a valuable resource to those exploring the lives and careers of those listed. The author's occasional use of the epsilon € and omega Ω symbols has not been definitively explained. They may be references to 'will found' and 'freedom documentation found' but this is unconfirmed and no key was left to those completing and publishing the work after the author's death.
In this 2nd document we believe this to be the key to these symbols:
¥ = will not found ‡ = freedom not found. ¥ ¥ is unknown

Peter Anthony Francis Haizelden was born 26 February 1957 at Queen Charlotte's Hospital, Goldhawk Road, Hammersmith, London W12 and given the name Philip Marron. An extra-marital child of Mary Marron (née Crossan) by James Nulty, both natives of County Cavan, Ireland.
Adopted, 16th January 1958 at Shoreditch County Court by Thomas James Leek and Kathleen Mary Leek (nee Wallis) of Wapping, London E1, and given the name Peter Anthony Leek. The forename Francis added at his confirmation.
Peter assumed the name Peter Anthony Francis Haizelden by Statutory declaration on 3rd February 1997 at Holbeach, Lincolnshire shortly after the death of Don Haizelden of Brunswick House, Long Sutton, his partner of 22 years.
Peter's early years were difficult, never happy at home, he took to wandering London from the age of 11. He discovered a love of architecture, especially churches, which in turn led him to the history of London and eventually genealogy research. Peter's fondest childhood memories were of The Spinney boarding school, East Sussex, his first experience of the English countryside, which he grew to love.
Peter met his lifelong partner, Don in 1975 and they moved to Long Sutton in 1987, to a Georgian house in need of much restoration. Don's sudden death in 1997 left Peter depressed and with no interest in continuing the planned restoration.
Instead, he continued with his detailed research of this book, often whilst touring in his VW campervan, fondly nicknamed Brian. Visiting and photographing churches, whilst living in Brian brought together his love of church architecture and the English countryside.
Peter was diagnosed with kidney cancer in March 2019, he died in Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Kings Lynn, 18th October 2022.
Peter's greatest wish was that his research would be available for other researchers to use and this would be his legacy. This book has finally come to fruition through the determined efforts of his sister Carol Pritchard and friends.
